During the year Il have, at their nan request, received baptism, and 5 have been onfirmed. The two recipionts of the Good Conduct Prizes have been chosen by ballot by the wirls themselves as being those who they considered had improved most in conduct during L Yau, the eldest in the school and the first girl seat by the Racisterr Govern in Murch. 1888, when the school was first openal. The and prize is awarded to Po U, a girl sent to us from Canton, and who had from her engliest years bym associated with wrongd ing. So far we have had no difficulty in getting butbands for those girls who are old enough to be married. It may not be generally known that until a Chinese girl is married, she cannot take any responsible position, and only whon she begins to look rather old, is it considered proper for her to go about by berself. Those who have left us. with two exceptions, appear to have settled down happily. Two of our present number have been batrothed; one of them is to be married shortly. Our warmest thanks are due to Lady Robinson for her kindness in inviting the girls to spend an ifternoon at Mountain Lodge in September last. The managery of such an event will not soon fade-away. Their enjoyment - of everything, including the novelty of a ride in . the tram, was very great. In December 1891. four of our number entered for the 'Belilios examination, and two of them gainet the 1st. and 4th prizes respectively. But for some reason the prizes have not yet been awarded. During the past year we have lind very

> Lady Robinson then distributed the prize which principally consisted of handsom dy bound Bible in Chinese, and it appeared as though every child received some visible recognition of her efforts. Having done this Her Ladyship made a brief speech. She was confident that all present were very pleased with the report which had been rend, and it must have been gratifying to all to find that the girls had made such good use of the advantages they were afforded. It was particularly satisfactory to note that of the four girls sent up in 1891 for the Belilios examination one secured the first and another the fourth prize. Miss Hamper, who unfortunutely owing to her health was obliged to leave shortly for home, had asked her to say a few words with reference to the finances of the Institution. Miss Hamper was handing over her charge to Mrs. Bennettand naturally felta great anxiety beore she left to see that everything was assured $7,374,894.40 in that direction. (Appleuse.) Her Ladyship was sure that the people of fongkong would be exceedingly unlikely to refuse to support an institution which was doing such a good and, merciful work in rescaing children from lives of misery and degradation, the horror of which few of then could properly. realise. The girls of the school were certainly to be congratulated on, and had every reason to be proud of, their success, and she hoped that next year it would be more difficult than ever to apportion the prizes, the general excellence being so high If at any time a third prize was required for any girl she would be most glad, if Mrs. Bounett informed her, to present one. Sin,-In common, I imagine, with many other shareholders in the above Company, I was surprised to learn, from the advertisement now as pearing in your columns, that it is proposed raise the additional capital required for the extensions now in progress at the East Point Refigery by the issue of new shares. When the Swatow Refinery was built the money needed was raised by the issue of debantures bearing interest at 8 per cent, and these were paid of in a few years out of profits. Why cannot this operation be repeated now? The money could no doubt be obtained in this way for 7 per cent. and a great saving in interest would thus be affected, to the profit of the shareholders, both immediate and future. This course is also obviously the one most calculated to maintain the value of the stock, a consideration of the first importance to all of us. Increasing the cripital involves a wider division of profits which would of course be sensibly felt in bal years. Sugar Company so far has experienced compuratively few bad years, and if the capital is kept down to its present limit, with the inprensed outturn at lower cost of production it should be possible to form a substantial fund for equalization of dividenda, which would reader the Company's stock the most favourite because re liable and good paying local invostment. These reasons soom to me absolutely unanswerable in farour of debentures. If. however, owing to causes unknown to my walf there is some insuperable difficulty in the way of isming debentures, rendering the increase of share capital unavoidable, let the klures a least be offered at par to the present sharehol ers. It is proposed, I note ' a sene them at 25 per cent premium. And why? What earthly object is to be attained by thus still further in creasing the capital? The property of the Comminy is written down to the lowest point ascessary or desirable; there is yet a chance, I hope that something may be done with the Swatow Rofinary, which, thanks to the action of the Chinese authorities and inaction of the date British Minister, has so long been a dead weight on the Compiny : and money is not so plontiful in this depleted Colony that it need be dragged from the hollow peakets of the shareholders merely to figure as a reserve fund. Nothing could be further from the truth. In June of last year we directed the attention of the Secretary for State to the distress caused to our European officers by the fall in the sterling value of the rapes, and we pointed out that if the present conditions continued, it would in our apinion be inevitably necessary to take steps for the purpose of mitigating the sufferings of our officers. About that time we were sending . home momorials from members of the Services by every mail. Three months later in September of the same year, we again called the Secretary of State's notice to the fact that the distress of our officers was very severe, that it extended to every branch of the service in which Europeans were amployed, and that we regarded with grave apprehension the consequences which would result to the administration I we were to allow the existing difficulties to continue without attempting to apply a remedy. Wer even went the length of examining some of the proposals which had been made to us with a of allegiating these difficulties, and while we refrined, for ressons of the kind which have just given, from making any recommendation for the immediate adoption of remedial measures, we expressed a strong opinion that culess a substantial rise in the gold value of the rupes were to occur, we should find it necessary to propose some measure of relial, such as those which we had mentioned to His Lordship. And, gentlemen, I may observe that I have myself in all communications - with the Secretary of State lost no opportunity of representing to him in the most emphatic terms my strong sonse of the very grievous hardship to which the services were being subjected. am bound to add that I am left in no doubt of the sympathy with which Her Majest,'s Government regards your case and it is, I have no doubt. as an indication of that sympathy that Lord Kimberley has recently authorised the payment Brown & Co., H. But, gentlemen, I trust that you will not suspect us of consider-ing this question from so heartless a standpoint. We feel that it is to your cordial operation. that the shoossful working of our Indian system of administration has been due in the past years, and it is a source of poignant regret to us to know that your arduons duties have of late been discharged under conditions so trying and mortifying as those to which you have in too many cases been
